

June 2, 2004

A Penny for Your Pops

Father's Day. A holiday too often overlooked. Maybe that's because Dad doesn't drop not-so-subtle hints months in advance, like some parents we know. Or maybe it's that shopping for the guy is a nightmare. Whatever the reason, it seems like every year you end up frantic and gift-less at the last minute. Fear not, well-meaning offspring! DailyCandy does it again ...

For the Spirited Soul

Seldom without a refreshment, he's never without refinement. A martini jug that holds enough for four — or one — and a wine-carrying set will keep him in good spirits. Fodder for cocktail banter: John Gregory Dunne's Nothing Lost is an intoxicating read. He'll learn to polish his skills with Tipsy in Madras, a guide to preppy drinking.

TODAY IN PHILADELPHIA
The Weekend Guide

Don't let anyone forget about Pop Pops. Send this e-mail to your friends.

